

Conference Schedule

Sheffield Postgraduate Philosophy Online Conference

Understanding Value IX

9th-11th December 2020

The University of Sheffield

Registration on Eventbrite is required: <https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/understanding-value-ix-online-tickets-119423712539>

Find all talks, abstracts, and schedules and regular updates on our website and Facebook.

If you have any questions, please contact valueconference@sheffield.ac.uk

IMPORTANT: All the dates and times are set based on Greenwich Mean Time (GMT), for your local time zones please refer to <https://www.calculator.net/time-zone-calculator.html>

Wednesday, 9th of December

9:45-9:55	Conference Opening Day 1
10:00-11:30	Group 1 - Applied philosophy and practical knowledge <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Karla Alex, Heidelberg University Hospital: ‘Ethical conceptualization of a sustainable right to health(care)’ ◆ Rikke Friis Bentzon, Copenhagen University: ‘Wisdom and well-being’ ◆ Victor Chidi Wolemonwu, University of Sheffield: ‘Exploitation and Servile Relations in Clinical Research’ 	Group 2 - Ethics, Meta-Ethics and Moral Epistemology <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Dylan Balfour, University of Edinburgh ‘The Long-Term Sensitivity Problem for Expected Value Consequentialism’ ◆ Sushruth Ravish, IIT Bombay (Mumbai) ‘Naturalized Social Moral Epistemology: A Cornell Realist Account’ ◆ Matt Rosen, University of Oxford ‘On Feeling that the Rain Should Stop: Virtues, Values, and Norms in Scheler’
11:30-12:30	Break
12:30-13:30	Keynote Alison Assiter (The University of the West of England): Kierkegaard on Process and Paradox’
13:30-14:00	Break
14:00-15:00	Keynote Komarine Romdenh-Romluc (The University of Sheffield): ‘Fanon’s Philosophy of Language’
15:00-15:30	Break
15:30-17:00	Group 3 - Politics of Language Use and Social Metaphysics <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Nikki Ernst, University of Pittsburgh ‘It's just a meme!’ Toxic Speech, Online Environments, and Plausible Deniability’ ◆ Gillian Gray, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor ‘Not-So-Neutral Counterparts’ ◆ Khang Tôn, University of California, Davis ‘Valuing Disability In Itself: A Constitutive Account 	Group 4 - Mathematics, Numbers and Value <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Adrian Liu, Stanford University ‘Incomparability in Comparison and in Choice’ ◆ Noëlle Rohde, University of Oxford ‘Value by the Numbers: Quantificational Discrimination and the School Mark’ ◆ Deniz Sarikaya, University of Hamburg ‘How mathematization might render narratives of mathematics better (and why this matters!’)

Thursday, 10th of December

13:45-14:45	Social Session Group 1 – Life as a Pandemic Postgrad	Social Session Group 2 – TV Show & Tell: Chatting about the shows you’ve binged on recently	Social Session Group 3 – Open Session
15:00-16:30	Group 5 - Politics of Language Use, Social Epistemology and Ethical Perspectives <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Tasneem Alsayed, University of Waterloo ‘Hermeneutical Impasses and Heterogeneity in Marginalized Groups’ ◆ Sherwin MirzaeiGhazi, University of Manchester ‘On the non-existence of private and third-person blame’ ◆ Tomasz Zyglewicz & Shannon Brick, City University of New York (CUNY) ‘When is Reappropriation Appropriate? ‘Gossip’ as a Case Study’ 	Group 6 - Moral Psychology, Emotions and Perception <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Dong An, Texas A&M University ‘Anxiety, Value, and Relational Agency’ ◆ Uphaar Dooling, University of Arizona ‘Moral Judgment and Decision-Making in the Predictive Brain: Implications of Predictive Processing for the Rationalism and Social Intuitionism Debate in Moral Psychology’ ◆ Lilith Newton, University of Edinburgh ‘The Aretaic Value of Irrational, Useless Doubts’
16:30-17:00	Break
17:00-18:00	Keynote Myisha Cherry (The University of California, Riverside): ‘Value-Based Protest Slogans: An Argument for Reorientation’

Friday, 11th of December

10:00-11:30	Group 7 - Aesthetics, Political Theory and Ethics <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Elliott Hartman, University of Canberra ‘Framing the Perceptual Theory of Sentimentalism as a Discourse Ethic’ ◆ Pablo Hubacher Haerle, University of Cambridge ‘From Enemies to Adversaries - Mouffe, Wittgenstein and Political Disagreement’ ◆ Nicholas Reimann, University of Leeds ‘Exploring the relationship between the aesthetic and moral value of food’ 	Group 8 - Feminist Philosophy and Perspectives from Social Epistemology <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Naomi Beecroft, University of Wollongong ‘The Biased Mind, Cognitivism, and Liberal Feminism: Tracing the Problems with Implicit Bias Theorising’ ◆ Matthew J. Cull, University of Sheffield ‘Engineering is not a Luxury: Black Feminists and Logical Positivists on Ameliorative Inquiry for Political Change’ ◆ Taylor Matthews, University of Nottingham ‘Epistemic Vice, Institutional Corruption, and the Home Office’
11:30-15:00	Break
15:00-16:30	Group 9 - Ethics and Value Theory <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Andreas Bruns, University of Leeds ‘Better Moral Worlds’ ◆ Nicholas Makins, London School of Economics and Political Science, ‘Value Assignment Under Moral Uncertainty: A Role for Desirability’ ◆ Amit Pinsker, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem ‘Why Not Maximize Expected Choiceworthiness’
16:30-18:00	Break
18:00-19:00	Keynote Shaun Nichols (Cornell University): ‘The Wrong and the Bad’
19:00	Social Session Group 1 – Kierkegaardening: Time to talk about being outdoors	Social Session Group 2 – Open Session